

Sartori wins 3 medals at the World Dairy Expo

PLYMOUTH, Wisconsin. (September 5, 2008) -- Sartori continued its winning ways with 3 medals at the World Dairy Expo Championship Dairy Product Contest, bringing the total awards won by Sartori so far in 2008 to 15. Sartori Reserve® SarVecchio® Parmesan and Sartori Reserve® Rosemary & Olive Oil Asiago both received first place ribbons, while Sartori Reserve® Dolcina™ Gorgonzola took a third place.

SarVecchio Parmesan has won a total of 6 awards this year, medaling in every contest where it has been entered. Since 2000, SarVecchio Parmesan has earned a total of 17 medals, making it the most decorated American made Parmesan.

This is the third 1st place award this year for Rosemary & Olive Oil Asiago, which was just launched in 2008. This Sartori Original cheese starts with an Asiago wheel that is then hand rubbed with rosemary and olive oil. The herb coating brings a new flavor that balances rather than overwhelms the creamy flavor of the cheese.

“This has been a great year for awards at Sartori,” said Jim Sartori, President and CEO of Sartori Foods. “We are gratified that both our well known products like SarVecchio Parmesan as well as our new innovations are being recognized.”

The World Dairy Expo Championship Dairy Product Contest was sponsored this year by the Wisconsin Dairy Products Association. Judging took place on August 27-28 in Madison Wisconsin. This year’s contest had a record 405 entries for cheese, butter, milk, yogurt, and other dairy products.

About Sartori Foods

Sartori Foods is a privately held manufacturer with more than 68 years of experience manufacturing and marketing premium Italian and other types of specialty cheese along with unique, customized flavor systems. Sartori Foods assists foodservice, ingredient and retail customers with creative, culinary solutions and innovative new products to leverage their success in the marketplace. Visit www.sartorifoods.com for more information.

CONTACT:

Kristen Huston

800-558-5888

khuston@sartorifoods.com